VICTORIA BUSINESS COLLEGE
WILL OPEN on or about Dec. 1st, 1887, in the rooms formerly occupied by the Y. M. C. A., corner Bastion and Government Streets, under the management of H. J. Van Auken from the Madison (Wis.) Business College.
The aim of this institution is to enable young men and women to acquire a practical business education. A knowledge of Bookkeeping, Penmanship, and Business Arithmetic will enable many who are now working for meagre salaries to obtain responsible and lucrative positions. The increase on one or two month's salary, which a business education will enable a person to obtain, will amply repay him for the expense necessary for such a course. Assistance will be afforded graduates of this College in obtaining good situations.
Day classes and evening classes will be formed in Bookkeeping, Penmanship and Business Arithmetic.
Special arrangements made with parties desiring instruction in any branch belonging to an English education.
Phonography will be taught by an excellent teacher.

A Musical Department.
As an additional feature, will be formed under the direction of Mrs. H. J. Van Auken, who has testimonials as a teacher of vocal music from Henry Ward Beecher, Geo. W. Morgan, the world renowned organist, and the following celebrated Italian teachers of New York City from whom she received instruction: Pedro Rivardi, Bassini and Bagioli.

CABLE NEWS.

Gladstone Double-Faced in his Opinion on the Riots---Leaders of the Mob Quieting Down.

The Malignant Growth in the Crown Prince's Throat Spreading---The Case More Serious.

The Wilson Scandal Increasing---Froude Thinks Ireland Will Never be Constitutionally Governed.

Gladstone Doublefaced.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Conservatives generally regard Gladstone's view of the Trafalgar Square riot, as expressed in his letter, as altogether parodoxical in that he encourages the wish of the people to resist the action of the government and praying the English Conservatives to submit to such restrictions as may be offered. He does not, of course, say this in plain language, but they maintain that he does so by implication.

The Police Action Defended.

Sir John E. Gorst addressed a meeting of the Conservative electors of Chatham this evening, confining his remarks chiefly to the condemnation of those who attempted to hold a meeting in Trafalgar Square on Sunday in defiance of police prohibition. He was frequently interrupted by groans and cat-calls, and a resolution expressing confidence in the government was defeated by an overwhelming vote. The meeting was finally brought to a close amid uproar and confusion.

Bradlaugh Out in Print.

From first to last of this communication, though justification for such inference is not apparent to others, Mr. Bradlaugh has suddenly become peaceful, and is out in public with a statement declaring the story that he had announced his intention to lead any attempt made to hold a meeting in the Square on Sunday, to be wholly unfounded and pronouncing the published account of his remarks a garbled report of what he really did say. Mrs. Besant, too, claims to have been incorrectly reported, and rushes into print with a letter explaining certain of her alleged utterances and repudiating others. The defiant leaders of the mob are cooling off rapidly, and certainly it is hourly becoming more apparent that there will be no parade in or near Trafalgar Square next Sunday, nor for a long time to come.

To Be Tried By Special Jury.

The government has decided that all agrarian prisoners in Ireland will be tried by special juries at the coming Irish assizes.

The Pope Condemns.

The Times says: "It is reported in Rome that the Pope has expressed his entire disapproval of lawlessness and political and fanatical riot, and has sent instructions to the Irish clergy with regard to the relations between landlord and tenant."

Froude's Opinion of the Irish.

Mr. Froude, in a long letter on the Irish question, addressed himself to the government thus: "Ireland is only governed by military authority. You have never succeeded in governing that country by constitutional methods and I think you never will."

Dr. McKenzie in High Favor.

The emperor of Germany still cherishes hopes of the Crown Prince's recovery and devotes hours each day questioning his doctors and others as to their opinions. It was at the personal request of the emperor that Dr. Bramann, Professor Bergman's chief assistant, undertook the journey to San Remo, and it is understood that his purpose in going there is not to perform the operation of tracheotomy, but to study the case of the Crown Prince as closely as possible and to report to the emperor the slightest change in his condition.

The Post prints extracts from the notes of Dr. McKenzie and Prof. Bramann relating to the case of the prince, and says that despite the assertions of the German physicians, that the condition of the patient is due to mistaken treatment on the part of Dr. McKenzie. The specialist is still in high favor at the German court, and has the full confidence of the suffering prince.

The Decoration Scandal.

The Wilson affair has become tangled beyond all possibility of unravelling. The residences of several persons of high positions in Paris were searched last evening and fresh revelations of a startling nature is promised for to-morrow.

The Glasgow Dynamiter.

GLASGOW, Nov. 15.—Rowatsch, the passenger on the State of Indiana, who was arrested yesterday at Greenock charged with being a dynamiter, states that he is a miner from Rogersfield. The cartridges found on him are ordinary miners' cartridges. The prisoner was remanded for further examination.

The Case More Serious'

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—The Reichst Anzger publishes a statement that during the examination of the Crown Prince at San Remo his physicians were able to ascertain that the patient's illness consists of a malignant new growth, situated below the left vocal chord and back of the margin of the larynx. Small beginnings of a similar growth are also perceivable on the right side. Hitherto the prince's ailment has been local and has in no way affected the general health, but the discoveries made have at last shown the dangerous character which the disease has assumed. The emperor, replying to an address of sympathy forwarded to him by the West Prussian Lutheran synod, says: "The pious wishes expressed by the synod have been good to my deeply troubled heart. May this heavy affliction upon my house and our fatherland soon pass away through God's omnipotence and grace."

Prince Bismarck and Prince William.

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—Prince Bismarck arrived here this evening. He proceeded immediately to his residence where Prince William awaited his coming, and the two held a protracted interview.

M. Wilson in Trouble.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Baroness De Selliere testified before the Wilson investigating commission, that her husband had informed her that he had given M. Wilson the sum of $400,000, in return for which Wilson was to secure for him a government concession of certain contracts. Her husband had also said, and she believed that he had received, very little for his money.

To be Tried as an Accessory.

Le Temps says that M. Wilson will be prosecuted as an accessory to M. Gregnor, prefect of Police, who is charged with having abstracted Wilson's letter, substituting antedated and garbled copies in their place.

Another Method to Raise Funds.

M. De Lesseps has written M. Rouvier asking the authority of the government to issue a loan of lottery bonds of the Panama Canal.

THE ANARCHISTS BURIED.

Full Ten Thousand Persons Present at the Grave—Curious Sight-Seers.

On Sunday the bodies of the five dead anarchists, Engel, Spies, Lingg, Parsons and Fischer, were laid in their last resting place. Seven thousand men and two hundred and fifty women formed in the funeral procession and followed the bodies to the graves, which were dug in the emptiest graveyard adjacent to Chicago. Fully ten thousand people were present when the coffins were lowered out of sight. All day the bodies of the murderers were laid out at Spies' house and a constant stream of mourners or curious sight-seers kept pouring in to view the ghastly remains or to gaze at the weeping relatives. By 2 p. m. the procession was on the move, Chief Marshal Hepp, with two aides, leading the way. There was no advance guard of police. Brilliantly dressed bands of musicians headed the procession and the hearses were followed by the members of several secret orders, of which the hanged men had been members. The most noticeable feature of the pageant was the showing by two local assemblies of Knights of Labor, composed wholly of women. Each one of these was aflame with red. Scarlet in their hats, bows of crimson at their throats and long streamers of crimson from their shoulders made the appearance of the working women an object of special comment. Forty cars were required to take out the members of the procession, and hundreds of others besides those in carriages, went out on different routes. Speeches were delivered at the graves. Albert Curlin, formerly of the Arbeiter Zeitung, scarcely got a fair start on what was apparently to be the typical anarchistic harangue, when Capt. Black stopped him. It was pitch dark and the people were being wrought up to a high pitch by the orator and surroundings. Those assembled then dispersed and made their way back to Chicago in carriages and trains.

"C" BATTERY SUPPLIES.

Capt. Warren Takes the Advice of a New York Lawyer, Who Believes the Sealers Have a Good Claim—Conferring With the Minister of Marine.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 15th.—Dr. Duncan has been appointed surgeon of "C" Battery.

The following are the successful tenderers for battery supplies: Provisions, Angus & Gordon; meat, R. Porter; bread, M. R. Smith. The other successful ones are Geo. Phillips, Baker & Son, H. Saunders and Jas. Williams.

Capt. Warren returned this morning. He says he took the advice of an eminent American lawyer of New York, whose opinion was that the sealing owners have the best possible grounds for a claim against the American government, but recommended a re-arrangement of the claim in accordance with the States procedure. Capt. Warren consented. To-night he had a long conference with the Minister of Fisheries.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

When the news of the Crown Prince's relapse was communicated to the Emperor he broke down and covered his face with his hands and literally sobbed, crying, "My Fred, my Fred, my poor Fred."

The Crown Prince refuses to give his consent to an operation.

Gladstone, being asked for his opinion on the execution of the Chicago anarchists, said: "I regret not having a comprehensive knowledge of the circumstances. I fear my opinion would be valueless." Boulanger, being asked the some question, replied: "I hold that, as guilty of offence against the common law, the Chicago anarchists merited every punishment; but with reference to the sentence which has been pronounced, I should, taking into consideration the political concomitants of the case, have joined my friends in Paris in petitioning for commutation of the penalty of death."

A Boy Drops a Lighted Cigarette in a Cotton Warehouse and Causes the Loss of $300,000.

Terrible Fire.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 15.—A boy dropped a cigarette yesterday and started a fire in the Union Cotton Co.'s building, at the foot of Main street, which contained 3,337 bales of cotton. The flames spread rapidly and, fanned by a brisk wind from the northwest, soon enveloped Mocley's warehouse, across the street, filled with 1,600 bales of cotton. The flames then ran down an alley filled with cotton, crossed Rock street and burned nearly to the corner of Cumberland street, threatening the gas works, the Metropolitan block of the Empress Barnbrook and Thompson block east, and the back portions of every building as far east as Scott street were on fire within twenty minutes. Suddenly the wind changed to a brisk breeze from the south, saving no less than half a dozen business blocks in the heart of the city. Total loss estimated at $300,000.

Shot Dead.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 15.—At eleven o'clock last night Chas. Henry, aged 19, shot and killed Effie Moore, a song and dance girl, at the Palace Variety Theatre; it occurred in the box which they occupied. Four shots were heard and a rush was made for the box. He was found placing the pistol in his pocket. Effie Moore was seventeen years old.

Fined $100.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Elliott W. Todd, proprietor of a house of ill fame on Broad street, who has been on trial for several days under the gambling act, has been convicted and fined $100.

The annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce was held to-night, at which Jos. Chamberlain, fishery commissioner, was present and made a brilliant speech.

Their cases will be pushed for trial immediately.

Mining Stock Brokers Down.

Defrauded the Company.

John H. Schriner, of Philadelphia, late secretary of the American National Telephone Company was arrested to-day, charged by the president of the company with applying the proceeds of a stock sale to his private use. He was admitted to bail.

Tenders His Resignation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—General Land Commissioner Sparks tendered his resignation to the President in a long letter in which he goes over the questions which lead up to his controversy with Secretary Lamar. Commissioner Sparks claims that all the issues raised by him were those of the law, and that Lamar unfairly endeavored to create an impression that the issue was one of authority alone, and that he (Sparks) had refused to execute the Secretary's official orders.

The Bogus Infernal Machine.

The case of Sherburne R. Hopkins, who sent the bogus infernal machine to Chief Justice Waite, came up in the police court here to-day. Hopkins' counsel moved to quash the information against his client on the grounds that the facts set forth in it was not sufficient to make an offence. The information charged Hopkins with attempting to defraud newspaper correspondents by selling them as news a statement he knew to be false. The counsel said it was alleged that Hopkins told the lie, or fiction, as the newspapers would call it. In reality it was simply the perpetration of a joke, or "fake." Hopkins was prepared to write a lie and asked if they wanted it. Assistant district attorney Eoil, the prosecuting attorney, said the argument had made such an impression on him that he was unwilling to risk a trial on this information. The judge then quashed the case. Mr. Eoil proposed another and stronger indictment against Hopkins.

Yellow Jack in Florida.

Surgeon-General Hamilton has received a telegram from Tampa, Fla., saying there were three new cases of yellow fever yesterday and no deaths. There are thirteen cases in hospital.

Plymouth Church Calls a Pastor.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 15.—At a special meeting of Plymouth Church and society this evening it was decided, with but one dissenting vote, to call Rev. Charles A. Bervy, of Wolverhampton, England, to fill the pulpit. The dissenter was E. B. Hutchison, who explained that he thought the pastor should be an American. The salary to be offered Mr. Bervy is $10,000 per annum.

Terrible Wife Murder.

COLUMBUS, S. C., Nov. 13.—On Saturday afternoon Stephen Bailey, engineer of a steam sawmill in Berkeley County, quarrelled with his wife and killed her with an axe. He hid the body until night, when he placed it in a wheelbarrow and carted it to the engine-room. He stripped part of the clothing from the body and threw it into the fiery furnace. In his excitement Bailey neglected to hide the bloody garments and next morning the clothes were discovered and the charred remains found in the furnace. Bailey was arrested. He made a full confession. He was handcuffed and tied to a post to prevent him escaping. He borrowed a knife from a little son of the constable to clean out his pipe, and attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat. His manacles, however, prevented him.

Boiler Explosion.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 15.—The boiler at Heller Bros.' blast furnace, at Woodside, exploded this morning with terrific force just as the men were going to work. Thomas Prout, watchman, was killed, and three others, named Card, Buckman, and Bernard, were seriously wounded. Just after the explosion flames burst forth from the building, which was destroyed. The loss is $30,000. Pieces of the roof were found two blocks away. The boiler was inspected recently and pronounced safe.

Burned to Death.

OLYMPIA, W. T., Nov. 15.—Angus McLean is in jail here charged with arson and murder. He was lessee of the Kneeland hotel at Shelton. On Saturday night he saturated his house with coal oil, set fire to the building, then, with a cigar in his mouth, he calmly watched it burn. He did not arouse the guests, but all, except one, escaped in their night clothes, after losing all their effects. Harry Connor who slept in the middle of the house was burned to death.

Fatal Locomotive Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, Nov. 15.—The court today granted a temporary injunction restraining the sheriff from serving writs of eviction against the striking miners in the Lehigh region. They succeeded in saving a large portion of the contents of the main building, the fire having evidently originated in the kitchen at the rear. The loss was considerable. There was no insurance on the house or contents. A very sad accompaniment of the fire was the sudden death of the youngest son of a neighbor, Henry Dennis, who, while running to the fire was observed to fall down, and when reached he immediately expired, it is supposed from rupture of the heart.

The Canadian Pacific transcontinental train arrived at Montreal on Monday afternoon six hours late, having met with two mishaps early that morning. When midway between Port Arthur and Cartier the sleeping car and first-class coach were thrown off by a broken rail and rolled over a high embankment. The passengers had to get out through the windows of the sleepers, which took fire, and the porter was seriously burned trying to extinguish the flames. He was left at the next station. The only passenger seriously injured was Miss Seller of China, who was going to Philadelphia to be married. She was left at North Bay. The other passengers had almost miraculous escapes. At night the train ran into a loose boulder nearly a half ton in weight, which had fallen on the track. The pilot of the engine and baggage car were smashed, and the passengers suff red more or less from their severe shaking up. Among the passengers were Mr. Goschen, brother of the British Chancellor, a San Francisco merchant, and several ladies.

Fifty years ago Cherry Moore emigrated from Belfast, Ireland, to New Brunswick, with her husband, Edward Moore, settling down in the western part of the province. She left behind her in the old country a brother, James Carlisle. James was a builder by occupation, and of thrifty habits. From his savings he purchased a large flax mill near Belfast. The American war broke out and the demand for the produce of the mill was so large and the price so good that Carlisle soon found himself a wealthy man. Several years ago he died, leaving property valued at a million dollars, the bulk of which was bequeathed to two grandchildren. These have lately died, and the property, now estimated to be worth over a million dollars, has reverted to Mrs. Moore, who is the sole heir-at-law. She resides at Fredericton Junction with her family of nine children. She is a widow and is 76 years old. Previous to striking this bonanza the family had been in poor circumstances. An agent will go to Ireland in a few days to wind up the estate.

A FELICITOUS APPOINTMENT.

Lieut.-Col. Holmes, commandant of "C" Battery, yesterday received official notification from the department of militia of the appointment of Dr. John A. Duncan, of Victoria, to the surgeonship of the battery. The appointment is a particularly happy one, Dr. Duncan having been the unanimous choice of the total contingent of British Columbia members, Mr. E. C. Baker, M. P., in particular, urging its desirability. Sir A. P. Caron is to be congratulated upon so gracefully acquiescing to the general request. Dr. Duncan is not unfamiliar with the position, having accompanied "A" Battery as staff-surgeon during their service in the late Northwest rebellion. However, it is a high compliment to him that he was selected out of a large number of applicants who were desirous of securing the position. We understand that Dr. Duncan's appointment is received with favor in Victoria, he having made numerous friends during his residence here, and is also agreeable to the officers and men of the battery, many of whom were with him in the Northwest.

THE TRAFALGAR RIOTS.

The occurrence of such a riot as that which took place in Trafalgar Square on Sunday is greatly to be deplored. They are becoming very common nowadays, and usually end in the shedding of blood. We read somewhere recently a very unbiased letter from a Canadian correspondent in London who had witnessed one of these riots, and his candid opinion was that nine-tenths of the riotous crowd were tramps, loafers and members of that large family of the human race which gains its bread by thieving, and preying upon the innocents who visit the great metropolis. Undoubtedly there is honest distress in London, but if it is to be remedied it must be done by other means than those which are being resorted to in the great city by the Thames. Distress, when not occasioned through the fault of the individual himself, seldom finds voice in noisy brawlings and opposition to constituted authority. We are told in the press despatches that "the leaders of the mob seemed to be young roughs from the East End." That is just what might have been expected from the lawless gathering which pretended to make a demonstration in favor of labor. Though the police were, through lack of numbers, unable to cope with the mob, upon the appearance of the cavalry and infantry they turned tail and fled, and made a most ignominious ending to a not particularly heroic encounter. The policemen did their duty like men, and nobly sustained their reputation as upholders of the law and guardians of the peace.

THE STOLEN THUNDER.

Coun. Grant should bear in mind that "a want of decency is a want of sense;" and in his next letter to the press should endeavor to refrain from the use of coarse expletives and innendoes. In yesterday's COLONIST it was intimated, in the mildest manner possible, that when Coun. Grant said the council had "stolen his thunder" and when he laid claim to having originated the policy to refer the rival schemes for the extension of the water works to an "outside engineer" he was well, fibbing. It was asserted by this paper that he had never brought forward any proposition of that nature but that the water committee and Coun. Barnard had done so. To strengthen his thunder-ing accusation the councillor last evening produced a report of the water committee, dated August 26th, last, and claimed the "thunder" it contained by asserting that he "dictated" it. As the report is signed by Coun. Pearse as well as by Coun. Grant, and if the latter really "dictated" the important state paper, it was Coun. Pearse then who stole the "thunder" and not the council. As there is said never to be thunder without lightning, it concerns us to ask what became of the electric fluid in this instance? Was that appropriated by Coun. Pearse, too, or did the council take possession of it? Was it in a liquid form and held in bottles or jugs? Seriously, when Coun. Grant laid claim to pioneering the "outside engineer" proposition, he was himself guilty of appropriating the water committee's "thunder" and trying to dispose of it as the product of his own brain. To Coun. Barnard is due the credit of proposing to employ Mr. Keefer, whose report was the means of preserving the city from a large expenditure of money on an inefficient water supply system. Coun. Grant should compare his first with his second letter, which is not borne out by the facts. He will then discover the ridiculousness of his position, as his second letter actually confounds and corrects the first!

THE WHALING INDUSTRY.

The success attending the whaling industry in the Arctic this year is most satisfactory. It has grown from small beginnings to very large proportions and promises to become even a greater source of profit in the future than in the past. The figures given of this year's catch speak volumes in themselves. Three hundred whales netting 33,000 barrels of oil and 550,000 pounds of bone, valued at $1,900,000, are the results of the arrival of thirty nine whalers, and one daily expected, at the port of San Francisco. This means a large distribution of money and a vast increase in the wealth of this city. Nor will it stop there. In a few years the fleet will be doubled, for there is room for all in the Behring's and Okhotsk Seas. British Columbia has done well in sealhunting; it is a paying business and, though attended with more or less danger, amply repays those who engage in it for their labor. Why should not a fleet of whalers sail out of the port of Victoria every year? Why should not large works be built here such as exist in San Francisco to receive the oil and treat it? Here is an opening for those who have their money lying idle in the banks, which could be quadrupled by being invested in some such scheme as this. It seems a pity that so many opportunities for building up Victoria as a manufacturing and business centre, lying all round us, are disregarded and allowed to pass by unheeded. It is hoped our monied men will give their attention to this matter, inquire into its merits, and build up a great trade which will result in a large annual expenditure in Victoria. There is no reason why this city should not vie with San Francisco in this line as she does in seal hunting, and we have it on very good authority that there is double as much money in the former as in the latter. The matter is worth investigating, and as a business proposition ought to be taken in hand by those of our citizens who have means and wish to increase them.

THE RABBIT PEST.

It was stated some time ago that an effort was to be made to stock British Columbia with rabbits. Where the story came from we do not know, its origin is shrouded in darkness. We believe it to be a canard, the emanation of some particularly fertile imagination. That such a scheme would be injurious in the extreme to the best interests of the province is witnessed by the result in the Australian colonies. New South Wales is said to be in even a more perilous condition than Victoria. Where it is spending £20,000 a year in fighting the pest, its neighbors are expending £100,000. The contemptuous neglect in the earlier stage, which the former has had cause to rue, has been repeated over the border. Nothing was done where a little would have proved effectual, and now money has to be poured out like water without apparent result. In the western division of New South Wales rabbits are increasing with such rapidity that unless almost superhuman efforts are made, the squatters are beginning to feel that they will be compelled to abandon the contest in despair. On Tolarno, a station containing about a million acres, situated on the Darling, 770,000 rabbits have been killed since April, 1885, at a cost of nearly £16,000, and the run is still as thickly infested as ever. At Teryawynia, in the same district, over a million rabbits have been killed within the past twelve months at a cost of nearly £16,000. Runs which a few years ago carried 270,000 sheep have now been reduced to 160,000. Four hundred square miles of country on the South Australian border, which used to carry 35,000 sheep, have now been sacrificed to the rodent. A few years ago there was scarcely a rabbit to be seen on the Barrier Ranges. "Now," says a recent visitor to the district, "there is a steady influx, droves of thousands daily crossing the South Australian frontier." All the efforts made in New South Wales to check the plague have been fruitless. The expenditure under the Rabbit Act, both by squatters and the State, has been on the most lavish scale; but the results are ridiculously disproportionate. On many stations 100 and 200 men are continually employed trapping, but nothing is gained beyond providing a livelihood for these individuals. The rabbits continue to increase, and daily the uninfested country is becoming less. Numbers of sheep are destroyed by the rabbits disturbing lambing ewes, and through sheep being caught in the traps. The dog pest is also becoming worse in consequence of the increase from the dogs which have escaped from the rabbit camps. The squatter, harried and worried at every turn, hardly knows where to turn for assistance. His rent has been raised thirtyfold at a bound, half his run has been resumed, and now the rabbit pest threatens to be the final straw which will break his back with the burden. A striking example of the cost of the rabbit pest may be given. From Albemarle Station the State receives a rent of £2,800 a year, and the amount of its three-fourths contribution for rabbit destruction will, it is expected, this year reach £11,000. It is not surprising, in the face of such experience as this, that the ministers who have lately been visiting the far west have returned convinced that the problem is one which needs early and vigorous action. The methods already adopted have failed entirely to grapple with the evil, and it is evident that a change of system is necessary. The New South Wales government have offered a reward of £25,000 to stimulate invention to produce an effective method of destroying the pest, but it is feared that while ingenuity is devising its plan the area infested will widen, and the country go from bad to worse. There seems, indeed, to be only one plan which can prove effectual, and that is to construct a rabbit-proof fence along the border, and then divide the infested country into blocks in a similar manner. Concentrated effort can then be directed upon each block, and with outside sources of supply being cut off, there will be some hope of gradually exterminating the pest. The cost, no doubt, will be large, but this appears to be the only choice against absolute abandonment.

HOW ABSURD.

TO THE EDITOR:—Coun. Grant addresses a letter to John Grant, one of the proprietors of that truthful little sheet the Times, and tells Johnny that he had no intention to trouble him this time and would not have done so if he had not had "water on the brain."

It is earnestly to be hoped that John will forgive the councillor as the loss would be great if his wise words did not go to enlighten the country.

16-INCH MAIN.

A SUGGESTION.

TO THE EDITOR:—On Thursday morning at 11 o'clock there will be services in the churches of this city, and throughout the Dominion generally. Could it be conveniently arranged that the military practice of fire arms be so ordered as to give quietness during that hour of public worship? The hour for religious services are generally fixed by custom; else the churches would alter the time of assembling if requisite for public convenience.

THE METLAKAHTLA AFFAIR.

To the Editor:—In your issue of yesterday appears a letter signed "John Bull," with the heading "A Great many to Blame," the following occurs:

"A Looker On" says in effect that if the Metlakahtlans had stood their ground and continued the fight that the people of British Columbia who are opposed to intolerance would see that they had justice done them."

This is what I did not say as may be seen from the following extract from my letter:

"Now then did Mr. Duncan do as Mr. Cridge had done—remove his congregation and become independent? No, he determined to fight the bishop, and the means he took to effect his object were his fatal error. If instead of 'fighting the bishop' and so by attempted subversion of law and order bringing the British Columbia government into the trouble, Mr. Duncan had done as Mr. Cridge had done before him, removed his Indians to some other part of British Columbia, the people of the country would, when they knew the real circumstances of the case, have done for him and his Indians as they had done for Mr. Cridge and his congregation—for British Columbia is inimical to anything like religious tyranny—and her institutions are as free as those of the United States, and Mr. Duncan would then have gone down historically a hero—a saint instead of, as now, a traitor. He unhappily did not choose to do this."

Mr. Duncan of 1880 and Mr. Duncan of 1887 are two different persons and two distinct epochs in his history. If he had left the Bishop in 1887 when he was petted and deservedly popular with nearly all, and removed himself and Indians to some other part of British Columbia, no doubt he would have been supported liberally and praised by the people of Canada. He chose, however, to fight, not for "religious freedom," for he and his Indians had this in common with all, but for "isolation" in an isolated "community," where he and they could be free from competition or control, religious or otherwise. Hence the desire to drive the Bishop off. He missed a glorious opportunity, unfortunately for British Columbia.

John Bull goes on and says:

"I doubt not the generosity of Columbians, yet facts are stubborn things, and I would like to ask how many of our citizens uttered a word in defence of those Indians, when wrongfully committed and imprisoned by incompetent judges! how many offered them common sympathy! how many offered them shelter when cast homeless on our streets on release from false imprisonment?"

Sympathy! Why these Indians (Mr. Duncan's) had been brought down by H. M. S. Cormorant, having had a fair trial and been convicted of offences against the law. Sympathy with criminals! Ought it to have been expected from a law-abiding people!

Besides, however much sympathy there may have been, had been destroyed because Mr. Duncan had left Victoria for the United States two or three days before the arrival of the Cormorant with some of his Indians. Had it been known then that he had gone "to confer with the United States authorities," and had in his pocket a letter of introduction signed by Senator Macdonald, J. H. Turner, M.P.P., and B. W. Pearse, a city councilman, instead of sympathy great indignation would have been created and maybe steps taken to prevent an imposition on the United States government and a libel on British Columbia. How can any one dare write that these Indians were wrongfully (illegally?) committed and imprisoned by incompetent magistrates. Incompetent magistrates! Why, the magistrate was a barrister and a judge of high standing, against whom no complaint had hitherto been made!

Mr. Duncan and his friends were in Victoria and knew what magistrate had been selected to go to Metlakahtla; therefore had they thought him incompetent, they could have sent a legal gentleman to defend them there. They did not do so.

After they (the Indians) had arrived, their case was brought before the supreme court of the province by a talented barrister. The decision of the magistrate was upheld by the court and it refused to liberate them.

I believe most of the Indians served the full time of their sentence, but some who were committed for trial were liberated to appear when called upon. This leniency and kindness of the government—a government ever kind to Indians—is called cy "John Bull" "release from false imprisonment!"

In the face of all this John Bull writes they were wrongfully imprisoned. Why does he dare libel the judiciary, a judiciary universally praised for its integrity. The judiciary of British Columbia being pure and undefiled, needs no defense from such attacks at home; but one hates to see British Columbia and the judiciary maligned abroad, adding one more injury and insult to those already sent there. "How many visited them in prison to minister to their wants when sick and pining in a dark dungeon. Who will answer!" As to the Indians being locked up in a dark dungeon. This is all claptrap—that any one visit the provincial gaol and they will be able easily to answer this accusation and convince themselves that the the prison(!!) is awfully comfortable and nice. The officers of the prison look after the Indians there, and no doubt when Mr. Duncan left to confer with the United States authorities he deputed some of his friends to minister to the wants of his deluded followers, as well in the gaol as when they came out purified.

"Instead of continuing an unequal fight with 'powers and principalities' against them, the Metlakahtlans have taken a Christian and disinterested course 'in shaking the dust from their feet.'"

Pity 'tis that Mr. Duncan and his Indians had not done this much sooner, about 1882, and migrated to some other portion of British Columbia. However, it is never too late to mend and mend they may yet. As to fighting with "powers and principalities." Angels! and ministers of grace defend us! Does this mean the bishop? or some foreign monarch or country? I give it up!

Whether the Indians took a "Christian and disinterested course (in leaving British Columbia), and in a Christian-like manner shaking the dust off their feet," I shall not discuss. The exodus is only a result, the further result of their leaving future history will have to narrate. What, however, interests people now is to learn the cause of this result and the reasons why the letter of recommendation was given to Mr. Duncan by prominent public men, knowing his errand to a foreign government and thereby aiding and abetting him.

They will be called upon (when the parliaments meet) by the representatives of the people as well at Ottawa as in British Columbia to defend or justify themselves. Until then patience must be exercised; the position (obliged to be) accepted, but John Bull need not think he can throw dust, apostolic or other, into people's eyes.

A Looker On.

SINGULAR MATRIMONIAL ROMANCE

The New York correspondent of the Brooklyn Eagle tells a pretty story, as follows:

Rather a notable wedding took place here the other day, with a romantic story attached. Young James Robertson Blackie, of the great Glasgow publishing house, came over the ocean to take back with him in the guise of a helpmeet Miss Ellen Arthur Botts, of Savannah, Ga., who is a niece of the late President Arthur. He is a tall, blonde young fellow, who is an excellent business man, as the present prosperity of his house shows, and with a heart in the right place, as the following little story proves: His wife was a relative of his stepmother, and came as a school girl to Glasgow to be educated, living in his father's home. He fell in love with her promptly, and they were provisionally engaged owing to her youth. Upon her return to this country she was for some time the devoted nurse of her dying grandfather, and after his death was attacked with fever as a result of her fatigue. While still convalescent the great earthquake that shook Charleston to pieces came to Savannah, and the shock and terror acting upon her enfeebled nerves entirely destroyed her sight. The specialists here, when consulted, declared the case was hopeless, and she must resign herself to life-long blindness. Upon this painful verdict she wrote to her fiancee, releasing him from the engagement, and resigned herself to darkness and loneliness for the rest of her life. The manly young Scotchman refused to submit. He took the next steamer for this country, and on arriving declared that he loved and would marry her whether she ever regained her sight or not. Stimulated by this unexpected happiness she at once began to mend, and with the restoration of her general health her eyes began to improve, and now she has as bright a pair of brown ones as are to be seen anywhere, and no one can see further into a millstone than she. They were married on Wednesday and will return to Scotland some time in November.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease with Endless Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

If I had known of the Cuticura Remedies twenty-eight years ago it would have saved me $200.00 (two hundred dollars) and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (Psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body and got under my nails. The scales would drop off me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ring-worm, psoriasis, etc. I took . . . and . . . Sarsaparillas over one year and a half, but no cure. I went to two or three doctors and no cure. I cannot praise the Cuticura Remedies too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was three boxes of Cuticura and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and two cakes of Cuticura Soap. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00 you would have had the money. I looked like the picture in your book of Psoriasis (picture number two, "How to Cure Skin Diseases"), but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times. Anything more that you want to know write me, or anyone who reads this may write to me and I will answer it.

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL.

The Canteen.

Mr. Graham, who has acted temporarily as city policeman, has been appointed to the canteen of "C" Battery.

Poultry Thefts.

Geese, ducks and fowls have begun to disappear from the suburbs. The police must keep a sharp lookout on Chinatown.

The Salvation Army.

The new Salvation Army regulations have been issued by General Booth. A soldier once is a soldier for ever under the new system.

Naval.

The flagship Triumph will leave for the south on the 6th December, where she will meet the Swiftsure. Admiral Heneage will there change his flag.

Dr. Jos. H. Begin.

Dr. Jos. H. Begin, of San Francisco, demonstrator of the painless extraction of teeth and amputations, is a guest at the Clarence. Doctors, surgeons and dentists are cordially invited to call. Room 40. Communications inviolate.

A Large Nugget.

A solid nugget, weighing over four ounces, was picked up at Boulder creek, a little to the north of Granite creek, and taken to Kamloops by the Rev. Father Lejeune. Father Lejune says that from $3 to $8 is being earned by miners in that district.

Wandering Quails.

A number of California quail have been seen on several occasions by Alex. McNeil, River's Inlet, at the door of the dwelling house of the Whannock Packing Co. It is rather strange that the birds should have reached so far north, especially as they are not seen in the neighborhood of Comox.

Monte Carlo Mine.

The Pacific Naval Station.

The Toronto Mail's London correspondent cables: It is intended to extend the naval establishment at Esquimalt to form an adequate depot and store for the Pacific fleet. Large docks will be constructed by private capital. The British and Colonial governments will jointly provide a series of defences mounted with powerful modern guns.

The Late Gale.

On Friday afternoon Mr. Vianen, of Westminster, had three boats fishing off Plumper's Pass. The gale overtook them and one of the boats was swamped. No lives were lost, but the boat and all the fishing gear to the value of $300 is gone. Another boat, which belonged to the surveying party under Mr. Geo. Turner, C. E., got away from the steamer and, being driven ashore, was broken to pieces.

Illecillewaet.

Mr. J. H. Collins, F.G.S., has been for the last few weeks in the Illecillewaet district, and says the mineral veins there, though small, are of a very promising character. As the mines are so scattered Mr. Collins says that to yield a great quantity of ore the owners should work more together with one another. There are numerous claims and numerous owners up in the district, but capitalists are very cereful of laying out much money on the mere chances of prospecting.

"Up With Your Hands."

As Mr. S. F. Holt, of Westminster, had reached a lonely part of the road on his way home on Saturday night he was accosted by a big, powerful man, who ordered him to throw up his hands. This Mr. Holt did, and the disciple of Dick Turpin, armed with a big carving knife, commenced his work of robbery, but only finding three short bits on his intended victim, he let him go. The police are on the track of the highwayman.

The Abyssinia.

The C. P. R. steamship Abyssinia is due to-day from Yokohama. Capt. Webber informed a newspaper reporter on the 11th instant that he had given orders to the Victoria pilots to take her into Esquimalt. The pilots here say that he has done no such thing up to date, and they are awaiting orders hourly. If the steamship does not call here, Capt. Webber will receive the censure of all the merchants in this city, and justly too.

The Delayed Trains.

The trains delayed by the washout near Harrison station, on the C. P. R., arrived at Vancouver yesterday at 2 o'clock, and the passengers and mails were transferred to the Louise, which arrived at 10:30 o'clock last night. Among those who came over on the steamer was Mr. R. Galbraith, from Kootenay, who will remain in town but a few days. He reports that the patients in Fort Steele hospital are convalescent. In speaking of the Illecillewaet mines, Mr. Galbrath is of the opinion that they are a great property.

Police Court.

Alfred Smith and Joseph King, two drunks, were fined $5 each or one week's imprisonment.

Johnny, an Indian, was fined $10 for being in possession of an intoxicant.

The charge against Tom, an Indian, of stealing $50 and a quantity of clothing, was dismissed.

Mrs. James Thistleton was summoned by officer Robb and charged with harboring vicious dogs. She did not appear, and after some evidence had been taken the charge was dismissed.

The apprentice lad who came up last week charged with desertion from the ship Ottolina was taken from the gaol by Mr. Robert Ward, J. P., and conducted aboard the vessel.

Ah Chong, the Chinaman, on remand, charged with stealing a coat from the Belmont tannery was further remanded until to-day.

A Serious Annoyance.

Some ladies who were going to the mainland by the Yosemite yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, made arrangements with a hackman to call for them at an hour that would enable them to take passage by the steamer. However, the second whistle of the steamer sounded and no John appeared. The ladies were compelled to abandon their trunks and walk, meeting a carriage on the way, and only getting to the dock after the gang-plank had been drawn in and the steamer had partially backed out. It was only owing to the obliging disposition of Capt. Rudlin that the ladies were not left behind, and simply through the failure of the hackman to keep his engagement. This sort of thing is not of infrequent occurrence, and it will perhaps interest the hackmen to know that it may prove an expensive carelessness. The other day at Belleville, Ont., a hackman neglected to keep an engagement which he had made to take three gentlemen to the train. They had purchased round trip excursion tickets to New York, and as they were of no worth except for that particular train, they brought suit against the hackman to recover the fare. The judge decided that the negligent hackman should pay the full amount of two return tickets at full passenger rates, the only means by which the delayed passengers could follow their previous intention. The same law would apply here, and it would be wisdom on the part of hackmen to make a strong effort to keep up to their engagements.

An Old Pioneer Burned to Death.

Jesse Kent, an old pioneer, whilst returning from up country with a pack train, met with a frightful death. While he was asleep by the camp fire his clothes got ignited and in a short time the deceased found dead, burned beyond recognition. He was buried near the scene of the sad accident.

An Oversight.

Through an oversight, no mention was made of the lecture on Phrenology given by Mr. Sutton, at the concert of the C. E. T. S. on Monday night. The lecture was very good and extremely interesting as well as amusing, and the ladies of the C. E. T. S., as well as the clergy, are greatly indebted to Mr. Sutton for his able lecture.

Temperance Entertainment.

The Church of England Temperance Society will join other societies in giving an entertainment at the Temperance Hall, Pandora street, this evening. There will be no admission fee, but a collection will be made at the close, the proceeds of which will be given to the Protestant Orphans' Home. The Ven. Archdeacon Scriven will occupy the chair. All are invited to attend and to bring their friends.

An Incendiary Fire.

During the absence of Mrs. Amos Bowman, of Sumas, on the Sound, the residence and barns on the property were completely destroyed by fire, with their contents. Mr. Bowman is absent in Ottawa, where he is connected with the Dominion geological survey. It is stated that the fire was the work of an incendiary, and every effort should be made to discover the perpetrators of the crime. There was no insurance on the property.

"His that Fleeth is Heir to."

Among those who suffer at this season of the year, although there is no prevalent form of ailment in the city, we are sorry to report that the Rt. Rev. Bishop Cridge has, on account of sickness, been confined to his bed for several days past, but it is fondly hoped that this trial is only temporary and that the worthy Bishop may be so far restored to health as to be able to take part in the annual special thanksgiving service, on Thursday morning, in the Reformed Episcopal church at 11 o'clock.

Hardly Christian.

We cannot believe that our evening contemporary desires to propagate infidelity in this community. The following, however, from its report of a Chinaman's cruel death, would seem to bear out that assumption:

"The victim of man's inhumanity, in the mean time, died the death of a dog, and probably will receive as much attention after as he did before his exit from the world."

Absurd Telegrams.

OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—Several important changes in the Dominion Cabinet are set to take place, among which will be the appointment of Sir Adolphe Caron to the Clerkship of the Privy Council, and John Costigan, Minister of Inland Revenue, to the position of chief editor of The Empire, the new government organ.

The despatch bears its absurdity upon its face. When is this thing to cease? A long-suffering public demands a change.

Maude Granger.

Miss Maude Granger's appearance at The Victoria on Friday and Saturday evenings promises to be the event of the theatrical season. The famous beauty has been too long on the stage to require any letters of recommendation from the press. She is pre-eminently an artist, and has "starred" on the American stage so long that her name has become a household word. In the "Creole" and "The Planter's Wife," she rises to the height of the art and displays in their fulness all those charms which have endeared her to theatre-goers everywhere. She is sure to be greeted with a crowded house.

Must Put Up the Cash.

Guttman & Frank, whose sealing schooner Onward had her skins seized, but who made for Victoria instead of Sitka, communicated with the district court, Alaska, offering to put up bonds for the release of their skins. In a letter received yesterday from H. E. Hayden, clerk of the court, under date of Oct. 30th, it is stated that "under instructions from the attorney-general, securities must be within the jurisdiction of our court. This practically makes it necessary to put up cash security, as there is no real property owned at this time within the territory." The letter also contains the information that at the next sitting of the court, to be held on the 14th Nov., an order will be made for the appraisement and sale of the skins now in possession of the court.

From Ominecca.

James May, one of the owners of the Vitall Bedrock Flume Creek, Vitall Creek, Ominecca, arrived down on the steamer Boscowitz, after an absence of six years. He reports that during that time the company has not paid more than expenses in working their claim. Mr. May is well-known to all old pioneers of this province and to many in California, having arrived in that country in 1849, and during the Fraser River excitement in 1858 he came to this province, being one of the first. He followed the discoveries of gold until Cariboo was reached, where he owned one of the first claims on Williams (then known as Humbug) Creek. He followed the discoveries again to Peace River, always being a pioneer in seeking to open new fields and coax the earth into yielding up a golden harvest.

From Naas River.

The steamer Barbara Boscowitz, from Naas River, arrived at the outer wharf early yesterday morning, and a short time after came into Spratt's wharf. The weather during the entire trip was very bad, delaying the progress of the steamer somewhat. Three surveying parties came down, viz,—Tuck's, Jemmett's and Skinner's. The freight consisted of 67 packages of salt salmon, 6,700 cases canned salmon, the consignees being as follows: Hudson's Bay Co., Turner, Beeton & Co, D. Spencer, Neufelder & Ross, Morris Moss, T. H. Hall, H. Saunders and J. Harcnell. The passengers were: Rev. Mr. Crosby and daughter, Bishop Ridley, S. P. Tuck, Capt. Jemmett, E. M. Skinner, Alex. McNeill, J. J. Alexander, G. R. Porter, W. H. Porter, D. Allen, J. D. Cameron, A. Alston Hole, W. G. Mitchell, A. McDonald, J. Gibson, W. R. Wilson, H. W. Wilkinson, Benny, McKeon, D. Page, J. McAllister, Simpson, J. May, Mulkey, Inkster, Lewis, Hunt, Conant, Bones, Sayyea, Johnson, Atchison, Morrow, C. Green and Morrison.

The Port Townsend Southern.

Says the Port Townsend Argus: It may seem visionary to be predicting great things for this enterprise, but there is solid foundation for all that has been said thus far. A gentleman from Montreal offers to take all the stock necessary, receive bonds in security therefor, and proceed to build the line just as soon as the right of way is secured. This last consideration cannot be had until the survey determines the definite location. It is quite certain, however, that the enterprise will be pushed without reserve. It has been abundantly demonstrated that the first forty mile section will be a paying investment for ten years to come if only the output of lumber along the line is taken into consideration. Besides that there is an iron mountain right close to the line, and the road will also run past two coal mines. Add to this the local traffic, and the through business whenever connection is made with either of the transcontinental lines, and you have inducements sufficient to lead even the most conservative moneybags to invest in the enterprise. No wonder Montreal capitalists are anxious to buy up the stock! This outlet on the American side affords the Canadian Pacific road the most expeditious and convenient connection.

Archibald-Robertson.

At Nanaimo yesterday Mr. W. F. Archibald, the popular manager of the C.P.R. telegraph office in this city, was united in marriage to Mrs. Carrie E. Robertson, also of Victoria. The happy event took place at the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. C. C. Mackenzie, barrister and ex-superintendent of education, the Rev. Jos. Hall officiating. The high contracting parties are well known in this city, where they have hosts of friends. The groom, who is a native of Truro, N. S., has long been a highly respected citizen of Victoria, and has discharged the onerous duties devolving upon him during his term in the government and railway telegraph service to the entire satisfaction of the public. The bride is equally known for her many excellent qualities of head and heart, and the union so happily consummated yesterday at the "Black Diamond" city cannot fail to prove an auspicious one. Into the new life THE COLONIST, with the numerous friends of the bride and groom, follows Mr. and Mrs. Archibald with the heartiest wishes for their welfare and future happiness. It casts after them the traditional old shoes and oceans of rice, and with them go all the best wishes with which these are traditionally associated. May their married life be a pleasant one!

Worth Knowing!

It has long been the study of chemists to produce an article that, while it would beautify the complexion, would also have the merit of being harmless, but these two important qualities were never brought together until combined in Wisdom's Robertine, the newest and best preparation science has yet produced for beautifying the complexion. $1000 is offered for every grain of poisonous substance found in it. AN INDIAN TRAGEDY.

While Playing With a Gun It Explodes and Kills an Indian Boy—His Companion Wanders in the Woods and Suicides—An Insight Into Several Phases of Indian Life.

A correspondent writing from Hazelton, Skeena river, under date of Oct. 5th, furnishes the following account of a sad accident that occurred at that point on the above date. Two Indian boys of Hazelton were amusing themselves by playing with a loaded gun, when it accidentally exploded, lodging its contents in the stomach of one of them. The injured lad was taken to the nearest house and an examination proved that the intestines were protruding and broken. No doctor was procurable. Great excitement reigned for a time, the friends of the injured boy being furious, and for a while the life of the offending boy trembled in the balance. What might have happened is difficult to say, had not Mr. W. B. Washbourne, an American, who has lately taken up his residence in Hazelton, came forward in the midst of the uproar and offered to attend to the wound on the condition that, should the boy die, no blame would be attached to him. The offer was accepted, and Mr. W. set to work, and no small praise is due him for the patience and skill which he displayed in a case that would have taxed the ability of a talented surgeon. After all was done that could be, the patient was removed to his house, that he might the better attend the wound. It was a noble act and one which deserves acknowledgment.

One word about the boy himself must be given. His suffering must have been intense and he bore it well. Nor is this all. He displayed a kind and gentle spirit. His mother crying aloud beside his couch seemed inconsolable. The little fellow stroked her face most endearingly saying, "Mother, do not cry now; wait till I am dead." Again: "Mother, do not be angry with the boy who shot me; we were only playing and no harm was intended." Christian children—yea, Christian men and women—learn a lesson here from a poor ignorant heathen boy of some 12 years of age! Notwithstanding the devotion of Mr. Washbourne to his patient the latter died on the following morning.

The poor boy who was the unintentional cause of the accident absconded immediately after, and was not heard of until the morning of the 15th October, when his dead body was found hanging to a tree about a mile and a half from Hazelton. He had apparently been dead for some days. It is supposed that he wandered about in the woods until, weakened by mental and bodily sufferings, he was led to terminate his existence. The friends of this poor lad are more to be pitied than those of the other. His father is at present absent from home, but when he returns it is expected that there will be no end of trouble.

INDIAN RESERVE LANDS.

Capt. Jemmett, Mr. S. P. Tuck, and Mr. E. M. Skinner, who have been engaged during the past season surveying Indian reserve lands at various points on the north-west coast and in Queen Charlotte Islands, returned to this city yesterday, with their parties, on the Barbara Boscowitz.

Capt. Jemmett has spent the larger portion of the season on Queen Charlotte Islands, where he has surveyed and defined the lands allotted to the Hydah tribes at Massett, Skidegate and other points. He has also surveyed several reserves on the Skeena river, above Aberdeen, and in the vicinity of Port Essington.

Mr. Tuck has been engaged principally on the Tsimpshean peninsula, and has surveyed the larger part of the lands allotted to the Tsimpshean tribes resident at Fort Simpson and Metlakahtla. His work began at the head of Work's canal, and he has worked southward as far as Inverness. The lands allotted to the Tsimpsheans embrace all the fishing stations and islands adjacent to the coast line between the points named.

Mr. Skinner's work began on the northern end of Vancouver island, and he has covered a large extent of territory on the island and on the mainland, between that point southward almost as far as Salmon river. He has also surveyed the reserves at the head of Knight's Inlet and at other points, which have involved long and hazardous canoe voyages.

The season has not been at all favorable for the work in which these gentlemen have been engaged, and they complain of the long continued rains which have seriously delayed them during most of the time that they have been in the field.
